In response to numerous serious injuries, including one to Hurricanes' defenceman Joni Pitkanen, the league implemented hybrid no-touch icing for the 2013–14 NHL season to help reduce high-speed collisions during icing situations.

Players, coaches, officials, and team builders who have had notable careers are eligible to be voted into the Hockey Hall of Fame. In addition to the regular season awards, the Conn Smythe Trophy is awarded annually to the most valuable player during the NHL's Stanley Cup playoffs.

The Canadiens have extended a one-year contract worth $3.6 million to restricted free agent Dach.

The team with the most goals during the three-round shootout wins the game. Also, unlike minor penalties, major penalties must be served to their full completion, regardless of number of goals scored during the power play. The rule is unofficially nicknamed the "Martin Brodeur rule"; Brodeur at the time was one of the best goaltenders at getting behind the net to handle the puck.

- The second was held in 1937, in support of Howie Morenz's family when he died of a coronary embolism after breaking his leg during a game.

Even after locking up Zegras, the Flyers retain ample flexibility, with roughly $30MM in projected space before this deal. Zegras played primarily on the wing, with some looks at center, and helped drive Philadelphia's push into the playoffs down the stretch. The Philadelphia Flyers will not require arbitration to get a new deal done with star forward Trevor Zegras. The league's post-lockout agreement with NBC gave the league a share of revenue from each game's advertising sales, rather than the usual lump sum paid up front for game rights. With no new agreement in hand when the contract expired, league commissioner Gary Bettman announced a lockout of the players union and closed the league's head office for the 2004-05 season. A lockout at the start of the 1994-95 season forced the league to reduce the schedule from 84 games to 48, with the teams playing only intra-conference games during the reduced season. In 1958, Willie O'Ree became the first black player in the league's history when he made his debut with the Boston Bruins.

After a long professional hockey career, it feels very fitting to see this scenario play out where Kane ends it where it all began. The Sabres lost a hometown kid in Alex Tuch to the Capitals, who was the key return in the Jack Eichel trade a few years ago. He was also a nine-time all-star, along with accolades like a Calder Memorial Trophy win in 2008, an Art Ross Trophy, Hart Memorial Trophy, and Ted Lindsay Award in 2016. A three-time Stanley Cup Champion in 2010, 2013, and 2015, winning the Conn Smythe Trophy in 2013. His previous 7-year deal only took up 8.63% in 2016; he won the Cup in the second-to-last year of that contract, making $6.3MM annually.

Two games have reached six overtime periods, but none have gone beyond six. Instead, multiple sudden-death, 20-minute five-on-five periods are played until one team scores. Whichever team ultimately wins the shootout is awarded a goal in the game score and thus awarded two points in the standings. If the game is still tied at the end of overtime, the game enters a shootout.

During the regular season, overtime is a five-minute, three-on-three sudden-death period, in which whoever scores a goal first wins the game. At the end of regulation time, the team with the most goals wins the game. The ninth overall pick in 2019 and the Calder Trophy runner-up as a rookie, he posted back-to-back 60-point seasons in Anaheim before injuries and a fractured relationship with the Ducks' front office derailed the early part of his career. Perhaps after failing to get to the dance with Detroit, he can help his childhood team, which ideally is a better playoff bet than Chicago, to make a Stanley Cup push in his latter career years.

threshold for the third time in his first four seasons, and scored 31 points in the 2009 playoffs. It now shifts to first and third overall picks from 2023 in Connor Bedard and Adam Fantilli, who both would ideally see their draft class colleague's situation and view themselves receiving significant paygrades as well. He has one year remaining on his entry-level contract, a three-year, $2.93MM ($975K AAV) deal signed back in 2024, after being the No. 1 overall selection in the NHL Draft in that year. He turned pro with the AHL's Texas Stars in 2023 but only appeared in 44 games before he was included in a three-team trade in February 2024 deal that sent Chris Tanev to the Stars.

Games that are not broadcast as part of the national rights deal are broadcast by Sportsnet's regional feeds, TSN's regional feeds, and RDS.
