ballycasino History and Evolution

The company was founded by Reuben Boro and William Lindau as an amusement machine company called Bell Aircraft Service Corp. However, it wasn't until they developed the first mechanical slot machine in 1932 that their name changed to Bally, which is derived from a slang term "Ballyhoo" meaning excitement or commotion.

The brand gained further recognition with its iconic 'Money Honey' game released in 1950, the first-ever true video slot. This innovative creation quickly took over American casinos and set the stage for future success of electronic gaming machines. Over time, Bally continued to diversify its product lines, eventually expanding into online casino software development.
