Choosing an electric bike can feel quite overwhelming, as the best electric bikes cover a wide range of styles and prices. In the GC picture, there was little change as stage 1 winner Baudin defended his lead for another day, but that is set to change as the race ramps up in difficulty over the next few days and into the weekend. As soon as the sprint started (it looked like it would be between Simmons and Fisher-Black), and there was little between the two at the line, but the long effort from Simmons just edged out to earn him his first victory of 2026. Even though two out of the remaining nine riders were from his team and made no effort in the chase (Mann admitted afterwards he didn't intend to go so far out), but once he committed himself, he wasn't turning back. The remainder of the 26 rider field was left awestruck as the two Queenslanders left them behind – with some riders zig-zagging up the steep incline of Old Coach Ride, fortunate for themselves they only had to ride it once. The pair waited patiently until the third lap of their 39 kilometre race on the Yandina Course, the first two laps didn't include the climb, before launching a decisive attack. The cyclist who raised eyebrows by winning a record six gold medals at the National Track Championships, also making a name for himself on the road. Several riders required ambulance treatment – mostly for cuts and road-rash, but it's understood, fortunately, none of the injuries were serious. The opening two laps detouring around the major climb of the race, with the final three laps including the 'pinch climb' ascent of the frighteningly steep Old Coach Road. The 65 kilometre Under 17 men's road race – saw competitors embark on five laps of the Yandina Road Course. Alex Baudin, EF Education-EasyPost, finished a few seconds behind the winner in the peloton, allowing him to maintain his lead in the GC for another day. Conversely, Peter Milostic was completely unperturbed; he had already achieved two gold medals in two days! Although the battery cannot be removed (it charges quickly), with Scott stating that a full charge requires only three hours. Mann later confessed that he did not plan to push so far out, even though two of the nine remaining riders were his teammates who did not attempt to chase; once he had committed, there was no turning back. Conversely, Peter Milostic was completely unperturbed; he had already achieved two gold medals in two days! This course is particularly challenging due to the short, sharp hills, requiring patience; we waited it out while Rob McLachlan stayed in, and having the three of us in the break made the ride significantly easier. However, McLachlan remained unconcerned and readily outsprinted the Penrith Panthers CC competitor, securing a convincing 1-2 victory for their thrilled manager Dominic Caravello, boosting confidence ahead of Victoria's Herald Sun-Tour, which begins in just over two weeks. Stage start times for the 2026 UAE Tour. Considering both my current form and the challenging nature of the circuit, I performed reasonably well to finish in 13th place. The course presents a challenge with a solid 1km ascent at the beginning – followed by rolling terrain for the next 10 kilometers. Regrettably, I believe that a lengthy breakaway given my condition on this difficult national road circuit would not showcase the bike's true potential. but that opportunity will arise. I put in considerable effort to keep pace with the group, despite the rough circuit roads taking a toll on myself and my bike. Another incident on the circuit resulted in the ambulance taking up half of the road after the fastest corner for a significant portion of the race. Best folding electric bike The Nationals present a great chance for each state to witness the best riders from Australia coming together; spreading this event across Australia is likely beneficial and adds excitement to the racing," Howson commented.
